

IN NORTH TOPEKA

Citizens Are Anxious About

Residents of North Topeka are awaiting with considerable interest the action of city commissioners regarding the installation of a duplicate pumping station at the foot of Fairchild street. At a meeting of North side business men early in July, Commissioner Porter and City Engineer Young agreed that a duplicate pump was necessary and Mr. Porter provided for the pump in his budget. The evident intention of the commissioners to reduce their budgets, however is causing action of city commissioners regarding their budgets, however, is causing some apprehension among a number of North Topekans, who have been working for the additional station. The pump that North Topeka has been relying on to drain off sewage and surplus waters after heavy rains was cracked last winter and has never been repaired. Should the crack become wider, the usefulness of the pump would not only be ended, but the streets in the low lands would be filled with water for hours and per-haps days, after every heavy rain. The pump was not taken seriously by North Topekans until this year. It was installed shortly after the 1908 flood, but until this summer few heavy flood, but until this summer few heavy rains have visited the North side since its installation. The extended wet season demonstrated the usefulness of the pump and the serious conditions that might result without it.

The pessimistic view in regard to the possible absence of action by the city commission is not shared by all North Topekans. F. O. Morns, chairman of a committee, appointed at the meting held in July expressed himself this morning as being certain that whatever items may be clipped from whatever items may be clipped from Commissioner's Porter budget, the provision for the pump will remain. provision for the pump will remain.

"The law provides that the city commission take care of just such a situation as this," declared Mr. Morns, "and I believe that North Topekans need have no fear that the city will man ounced today.

Mr. Deacon pointed out that num-

FORMERLY OF TECUMSEH, KANSAS.

Mr. T. J. & CHAS. Nichols, Topeka, Kan., 529 Kansas Ave. Phone 440.

Kind Friends—Your favor received today, and in reply will state that any time now is all right to show the country. We have just received good rains, and the crops have improved wonderfully, and I think all of the crops will be very good. We did not expect very much this year, still our corn, beans and potatoes will more than average with our neighbors.

The crops at Kuhns Crossing should look well; they got a lot of rain the first of July that missed us here. Mr. Welling's crops look fine.

Next senson when we get this sod back set, we can do some fine farming, the ground works so good.

The steers are doing extremely well. We have have now had them only about 45 days, and their gain is decidedly satis factory.

We lost so much by not being able to get here earlier, but that can't be helped now. We can make more here and pract ically do nothing than we could there and work hard. Then we don't suffer with the heat here and we have cool nights for sleep.

You may refer any of your land buyers to me you wish, and I will inform them.
